Public Service Communications Academy 2020
Raising our standards: democracy and communities
24-26 November 2020
Campaigns and marketing in times of Covid-19: lessons learned to date

Conrad Bird, Director of Government Marketing
Cabinet Office CV-19 Comms Hub

Public Service Communications Academy 2020
Raising our standards: democracy and communities
24-26 November 2020
Context

- CO Hub set up to provide 360 degree, always on communications response to Covid-19
- Focus on ‘protecting lives & livelihoods’
- Communications – a key lever for behaviour change and to ensure compliance
- Fast-moving, unprecedented challenge – requiring unprecedented level response
- Major multi-channel campaigns delivered within 10 days
14 major campaigns to date
What we’ve learned

• ‘Listen, learn, optimise’ – actionable insight

• ‘Communications is total’

• Digitally-driven behaviour change campaigns

• National to hyper, hyper local

• The power of other voices

• Nothing is impossible, if you carry on learning ….
‘Listen, Learn, Optimise’

- Daily polling and twice-weekly focus groups to test policy & creative - often focused on specific target audiences (e.g. SMEs, BAME, 18-24, lone parents)

- Daily digital “pulses” to review and optimise all digital (5 day burn out)

- Embedded evaluators, behavioural insight specialists and decision scientists ensuring constant improvement
‘Total Communications’

• PM Press Conferences average 4m viewers/day

• 28m viewers for PM Address to Nation

• 40-50 organic posts/a day – highest performers (3m+) promoted onwards by paid for campaign for further reach

• Government and citizen actions have major impact on compliance/trust
‘National to hyperlocal’

• Liaising with local authorities and delivering comms down to postcode & street level

• Street teams in 50 locations across London, Birmingham, Wolverhampton, Derby, Coventry, Huddersfield, Leeds, Bradford, Manchester, Sheffield, Norwich

• Liverpool mass testing pilot – from brief to action in 5 days with brilliant local co-operation
Credible Voices

- Especially important for under-represented audiences and youth
- 200+ brand partners/influencers including high street names such as Boots, Lloyds, Tesco, Carex, Dettol, BT, LadBible, TikTok
- 160,000+ wider local/charity partners are using our campaign materials to support their communications
- Substantial in-kind value and separately negotiated free of charge media opportunities
Thank you

Contact me at conrad.bird@trade.gov.uk